

World Book

World Book began printing encyclopedias in 1917 and has since expanded into online education resources. You have access to 7 of them through the Peace Library System. Each resource has different features but many compliment and work with each other. You only need to create one account on World Book and it will work on all of the sites. This allows you to store tons of information in a single place instead of having different information on different sites!

World Book: Early World of Learning

World Book: Early World of Learning is a resource for pre-schoolers and young kids. This site will read a loud to you as well as promote learning, reading and understanding through games, fairy tales, stories, songs, colouring pages and videos.

Some of the content is available only by streaming while the audio for the fairy tales, songs and nursery rhymes can be downloaded.

World Book: Kids

World Book: Kids is a resource for young kids and children beginning to do research and homework. The site offers games, science projects and maps. The colourful website offers a fun and easy way to browse through and compare animals, places and objects. Articles about a person, place or thing offer links to pictures and videos on the topic as well as the French and Spanish translations

World Book: Info Finder

World Book: Info Finder is a resource for kids and pre-teens doing research and homework. The site offers a step-by-step guide on how to do a research project as well as offers all the tools you could need. In addition to the encyclopedia articles and projects that World Book: Kids has, Info Finder includes ways to stay up to date on current events and take virtual tours through museums and attractions all over the world.

World Book: Reference Center

World Book: Reference Center is a resource for pre-teens and teens doing research. The site offers all of the tools of World Book: Info Finder as well as access to primary resources, an online book archive and links computer & web tutorials as well as life skills.

World Book: Timelines

World Book: Timelines is a resource for pre-teens and teens doing research. The site compliments World Book: Info Finder and Reference Center as it allows you to create your own timelines to display all the information you have collected. You can create your own from scratch with your own events or pre-made events or edit pre-made timelines with your own events or other pre-made events. Events can include descriptions, notes, pictures and videos (from World Book or your own), dates and colour coding.

World Book: Enciclopedia Estudiantil Hallazgos

World Book: Enciclopedia Estudiantil Hallazgos is a resource for kids and children beginning to do research and homework. The site is very similar to World Book: Kids but offers all of its content in Spanish. Articles about a person, place or thing offer links to the English translation. The site also offers a visual dictionary that allows you to switch between the French, English and Spanish terms for an item.

World Book: L'Encyclopédie Découverte

World Book: L'Encyclopédie Découverte is a resource for kids and children beginning to do research and homework. The site is similar to World Book: Kids but offers all of its content in French Canadian. Articles about a person, place or thing offer links to the English translation.
