

Raising, Keeping, and Loving Backyard Chickens

Backyard chickens are about eggs, family involvement, and fun!

Wednesday, April 2
6:00 pm

A question and answer session will follow.

Students attending this class will learn about:

- choosing suitable varieties, which are best for eggs and meat
- coop and run requirements, including how to shelter and protect against predators
- feeding and nutrition
- the benefits and challenges of raising chickens in an urban setting
- cold-climate care

You will leave the class with a good sense of what is involved in successfully raising backyard chickens.
